Bio

Heather is a 25 years old girl living in Dublin, Ireland. She studies law at the Trinity College in Dublin and sometimes she finds it hard to stay concentrated and motivated on the exams. Her dream is to become a lawyer and everytime she struggles with studying she is convinced she can't do it. She also plays volleyball but not as she would like to, since everytime she doesn't make it she feels unmotivated to continue and stays incnsistent. She would like a support from this point of view, something that might help her aknowledge and remember her worth.
