

Hi folks! I'm Cecilia, a 22-year-old from Italy. During the week, I split my time between Naples and Aversa, a nearby smaller town. I have a bachelor's degree in communication studies, and I'm currently in my second year of a master's program in Public and Corporate Communication.

But enough with the boring details, let's deep dive into who I really am. My friends call me fairy cause I always truly my best to emphasize with people, to say something good and to cheer the people I am with. I believe in people, in kindness that's why I thrive in social settings, cause bringing people together is something I truly enjoy. I tend to organize things while keeping things organized and under control, by myself because I don't like surprise.

I'm adventurous and love diving into new experiences, that's also why during my studies, I decided to join the incredible opportunity to do an Erasmus exchange in the Netherlands. It was one of the most transformative experiences of my life, giving me the space to focus on myself, while growing as a woman and exploring new perspectives in design and communication. It also introduced me to two worlds that I discovered can sometimes coexist: techno-house music and adaptive reuse of ancient architectures.

I'm passionate about unique design objects, creative lighting and sparkly elements, intricate details, and anything digital or physical that stands out from the ordinary. I'm drawn to things that challenge the way we usually see them. I love editorial photography, post-production, set design, jewelry, makeup, fashion, and music. Anything connected to artistic effort sparks something that is always deeply fulfilling.

I'm a scout girl and no, I don't sell cookies! I've been part of the scout movement since I was 8 years old. love camping, hiking, and experiencing life on the road with others. Being an educational, political, and social resource for my community is sincerely important to me, which is why I'm a scout leader for a group of 32 kids. And yes, they sometimes end up as the subjects of my photography!

Hope to find passionate people here :)
